Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2020089269A1] The invention relates to a glass bottle (1) having an inserted hard bottom and a three-dimensional decorative element (4) in the bottle interior, the glass bottle comprising a glass hollow body (2) having the shape of a bottle, a bottom insert (3) and a three-dimensional decorative element (4) in the interior of the glass bottle. The invention further relates to a method for producing a bottle having an inserted hard bottom. In the case of the bottle according to the invention, it is possible to combine glass with another material and to nevertheless obtain a sealed bottle. The bottle is closed liquid-tight, even though the bottom consists of a separate component. Any objects can be inserted into the bottle interior for decoration.
