Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2019053151A1] The invention relates to a panel carrier (5) for securing a front panel (3) on the side sections (4) of a drawer (2), having a carrier part (7) which can be secured to the front panel (3), a base part (6) which can be mounted on the side section (4), surrounds the carrier part (7), and comprises two lateral limbs (61, 62) that are aligned at least partially parallel to each other, a cylindrical rotational axis which extends through the base part (6) and the carrier part (7), and a first adjusting element (9) for adjusting the front panel (3), wherein the carrier part (7) is arranged in a pivotal manner about the rotational axis relative to the base part (6), and the first adjusting element (9) is arranged at a distance from the rotational axis. The invention additionally relates to a drawer.
