Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2019058087A1] A refillable device (10) for packaging a cosmetic product, comprising a removable container (12) containing cosmetic product, an outer casing (14) defining a housing (20) for receiving the removable container (12), the housing (20) receiving the removable container (12) opening at an outlet (22) in the outer casing (14), and a cover (16) capable of closing the outlet of the housing in the outer casing (14). The removable container (12) is attached to the outer casing (14) by snap-fitting of complementary relief portions (52, 36). The removable container (12) can be reversibly removed from the outer casing (14). The cover (16) is capable of being attached to one of the cover (16) and the removable container (12) so as to lock the snap-fitting attachment of the complementary relief portions.
