Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2019077100A1] The invention relates to a receiver partner toy (3) for sexual stimulation, comprising a massage element (12) to be brought into contact with the body of a user, the massage element (12) being encased, at least in regions, with a silicone covering (14), a vibration drive (18) in the massage element (12) for causing the massage element to vibrate, a control unit (20) for controlling the vibration drive (18), and an energy source (22) for supplying the vibration drive (18) and the control unit (20) with electrical energy. Here, the control unit (20) is suitable for receiving signals or data that represent a distance (D) from a transmitter partner toy (2). Said control unit is also suitable for controlling the vibration drive (18) on the basis of the distance (D).
