Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2019116133A1] The invention relates to a capsule for preparing, in particular, warm or hot beverages, in particular portions of coffee or tea. The aim is for said capsule to be able to be manufactured with little expenditure and in a short time, and to be fully biodegradable in domestic compost. To this end, the capsule comprises a cup-shaped or truncated cone-shaped capsule body (2) with conical walls, a top part (3) being integrally formed on the smaller diameter of said capsule body and an encircling and outwardly projecting annular flange (4) being integrally formed on the larger diameter of said capsule body, wherein the coffee capsule (1) is composed of a fully biodegradable and natural raw material.
