Abstract (en)
[origin: EP3735956A1] Provided is a multi-functional moxibustion box, wherein same is capable of realizing the combination of acupuncture and moxibustion, and has a cupping function, such that the treatment effect of traditional Chinese medicine and the effect of health care can be improved. The moxibustion box comprises: a shell (1), with an upper portion and an lower portion thereof both being provided with an opening, the opening at the upper portion being an upper opening edge (11), and the opening at the lower portion extending to a base (12); a double-sided adhesive tape (3) arranged below the base (12) of the shell (1); and a metal moxibustion net sleeve (4), the length thereof being smaller than that of the shell (1), with an upper opening and a bottom opening being respectively provided at the upper portion and the bottom portion thereof, and the rest of the metal moxibustion net sleeve being of net-shaped structures, and a flange (42) being arranged at the upper portion of the outer edge of the metal moxibustion net sleeve (4), so that the flange (42) is clamped onto the upper opening edge (11) of the shell (1) when the metal moxibustion net sleeve (4) is embedded into the upper opening edge (11) of the shell (1). During acupuncture, tails of acupuncture needles can be accommodated in a cavity of a hollow column (2), so as to heat skin where the acupuncture needles are located, such that the combination of acupuncture and moxibustion is realized, thus improving the treatment effect or the effect of health care.
