Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2019137763A1] By using a plate (1) according to the invention as a pad of a helper's hand when the helper is to give heart massage (CPR) and to shape the top side (3) of the plate (1) into the shape of the heel of the hand (6) and its bottom side (11) into the shape of the chest (12), a correct arrangement of the plate on the chest (12) will be ensured. The plate (1) is provided with embedded sensors (2) such that the compressive force as well as the pressure frequency may be registered and indicated for controlling and ensuring correct massage.
