Abstract (en)

[origin: EP3524540A1] There is described a bag (100) for the transport and storage of bulk goods comprising at least a bottom part (15) and four sides (11-14) connected in pairs along adjacent edges to form vertical ridges at four corners of the bag (100). The bag (100) further comprises four lifting straps (18) provided in an upper portion of the bag (100) along the vertical ridges of the bag (100), which lifting straps (18) are interconnected in pairs by two sleeves (17) to form tubings or ducts on two opposite sides (12, 14) of the bag (100) to allow lifting of the bag by means of a forklift. Slits (20) are further provided on an upper side of each sleeve (17), at both ends of each sleeve (17), next to the lifting straps (18), thus forming four anchor points around the lifting straps (18) to allow lifting of the bag (100) by means of a four-point lifting device.
