Abstract (en)
[origin: EP3751827A1] The present application discloses a message processing method, an unread message display method, and a computer terminal. The method comprises: acquiring unread messages from dialog messages; summarizing said unread messages to obtain summarized message content of said unread messages; presenting said summarized message content to a user. The present application solves the technical problem of inefficient processing of unread messages by a user in the process of using an instant messaging tool.
