Abstract (en)
[origin: EP3757299A1] Disclosed is an environment data generating apparatus for generating environment data representing environment around a construction equipment. The environment data generating apparatus includes a member position data generating module which generates member position data including the coordinate of the member of the construction equipment, an environment data generating module which generates first environment data representing the environment around the construction equipment, and a data processing module which generates second environment data representing the environment around the construction equipment excluded the member of the construction equipment by excluding data representing the member of the construction equipment among the first environment data based on the member position data.
