Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2019244003A1] A method for processing a web of wrapping material (2) to make smoking articles (1), comprises the following steps, repeated cyclically with periodicity: feeding the web of wrapping material (2) to advance it by a predetermined quantity corresponding to a length of a stretch of web used 5 to make a single cigarette; creating a feature on the web; applying a mark (6) on a surface of the wrapping material (2); generating a synchronization signal representing the periodicity.
