Abstract (en)

[origin: US2020118045A1] A method and system for automatically reserving a room for a meeting is disclosed, in which a user is offered an option for enabling automatic room reservation during the creation of a scheduled meeting. The user can specify the time of the meeting, as well as preferences for the type of room that should be selected. The system can also ensure the availability of a suitable room for recurring meetings.
