Abstract (en)
Lighting assembly (10) configured to be embedded preferably in a floor (11), comprising a support member (12) suitable to be inserted in a containing seating (13) present in the floor (11), a lighting unit (27) provided with clamping means (52) to selectively and preferably removably clamp the lighting unit (27) with respect to the support member (12), and anti-rotation means (23, 50) configured to prevent the rotation of said lighting unit (27) with respect to said support member (12), wherein said anti-rotation means (23, 50) are different and independent from said clamping means (52) and comprise first anti-rotation means (23) present on said support member (12), and mating second anti-rotation means (50) present on said lighting unit (27) and configured to cooperate with said first anti-rotation means (23) in a plurality of positions. The invention also comprises the method to install the lighting assembly (10).
