Abstract (en)
A smoking article (1) comprises a rolling member (2), a heat source (3), a flavor source (4), and a filter member (5) arranged in a line in the stated order, and is provided with: a first rolling paper (6) for integrally rolling the rolling member (2), the heat source (3), and the flavor source (4); a second rolling paper (7) for integrally rolling the rolling member (2), the heat source (3), and the flavor source (4) rolled with the first rolling paper (6) together with the filter member (5); a bonding part (8) in which the rolling member (2), a part of the heat source (3), and the flavor source (4) are bonded to the first rolling paper (6); and a non-bonding part (9) which is located on the side of the heat source (3) closer to the rolling member (2) and in which the first rolling paper (6) is not bonded. Before use, by separating at least a part of the rolling member (2) in the non-bonding part (9), at least a part of the heat source (3) is exposed so that the part can be heated by ignition.
