Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2020156752A1] The invention relates to a method for managing subscription profiles (13, 14) on a security element (11) which is intended for use in a mobile device (10) and on which a profile manager (12) and at least one first subscription profile (13) are loaded. The method comprises: loading (S1) a second subscription profile (14) from a subscription management server; checking (S2) whether the loaded at least one first subscription profile (13) satisfies a predefined condition; and disabling (S3) the at least one first subscription profile if the at least one first subscription profile (13) satisfies the predefined condition.
