Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2020183112A1] The invention relates to a decorative object (1) of the trophy type comprising a plinth (3), an ornamental body (2) and means (19) for assembly between the plinth and the body. The body comprises at least one central part (4, 5) forming two opposite outer faces (4b, 5b), at least one of these two outer faces comprising at least one ornamental projecting element (8, 9). The body comprises at least one ornamental added part (10, 11, 12) whose shapes match the at least one projecting element in such a way as to imbricate said at least one added part around the at least one projecting element and cover said at least one of the two outer faces (4b, 5b), nesting means securing the at least one added part to the at least one outer face. According to one embodiment, the trophy represents a ball.
