Abstract (en)
[origin: EP3954630A1] This household thin-paper storing container 1 is provided with a container body 10 having a storing space S for accommodating therein household thin paper P, wherein the container body 10 is provided with a container body upper portion 11, a container body lower portion 12, and a connection part 13 for connecting the rear surface of the container body upper portion 11 and the rear surface of the container body lower portion 12. By turning the container body upper portion 11 about the connection part 13 which is acting as the fulcrum, the storing space S of the container body lower portion 12 is closed or exposed. The container body lower portion 12 has, at the upper end portion thereof, a recessed groove 121 comprising an outer peripheral wall portion 1211 and an inner peripheral wall portion 1212, so that an inner edge portion 118 of the container body upper portion 11 is engageable with the recessed groove.
