Abstract (en)

[origin: EP3970593A1] There is disclosed a spray-arm apparatus (329) for a dishwashing machine (100). The spray-arm apparatus (329) comprises a spray-arm (326) having a plurality of outlets (364, 366, 368, 370, 372) for spraying liquid during a washing cycle. The plurality of outlets (364, 366, 368, 370, 372) are arranged along a length of the spray-arm (326) between a rotational centre (374) of the spray-arm (326) and a distal end (376) of the spray-arm. The spray-arm apparatus (329) comprises a device (378) for selectively causing a force to be applied to the spray-arm (326) so as to cause at least a portion (398) of the spray arm (326) to deflect. At least one of the plurality of outlets (364, 366, 368, 370, 372) is located on the portion (398).
