Abstract (en)
The present invention relates to a packaging (1; 6) for a product (4), for example a cosmetic product, which comprises a casing (3) for the product (4) comprising a casing body internally defining a product housing (31) and an access opening (32) to access (32) said housing (31), and an outer cover (2) in turn comprising a hollow box-like body (22) configured to house the casing (3) and a slide (21) to which the casing (3) is constrained. The slide (21) is housed in a sliding manner inside the box-like body (22) between a position of complete insertion of the slide (21) inside the box-like body (22) and a position of at least partial extraction of the slide (21) from the box-like body (22). Furthermore, a guiding and spacing element (228; 215,216) is comprised being configured to guide the sliding of the slide (21) inside the box-like body and keep the opening (32) of the casing (3) spaced apart from a first outer wall (223) of the box-like body (22) facing the opening (32) of the casing (3), the guiding and spacing element (228; 215,216) defining an air chamber (221B) positioned between the opening (32) of the casing (3) and the first outer wall (223) of the box-like body (22).
