Abstract (en)
[origin: CN114532690A] A mechanism for a cosmetic product and a container comprising such a mechanism are disclosed. A mechanism (1) for a product, comprising a cup (212) configured to receive the product, the cup comprising at least one flexible tab (270), a sleeve (434) comprising a helical groove for cooperating with the cup to raise or lower the product, and a guide (316) arranged around the sleeve, the guide comprising at least one vertical slide, the vertical slide being configured to slide the cup and the sleeve into the helical groove. At least one vertical slide defines a displacement path of the cup and cooperates with the at least one flexible tab. According to the invention, the sleeve (434), the cup (212) and the guide (316) are made of one type of metal material.
