Abstract (en)
[origin: EP4015410A1] A sanitary tissue paper storage container includes the following. A container body stores sanitary tissue paper inside. A lid is detachably attached to the container body and a hole is formed on an upper surface. An outlet member is used to form an outlet portion. The outlet portion is detachably attached to the lid and is provided with an outlet that applies resistance when the sanitary tissue paper stored inside the container body is taken out. The outlet member includes an elastomer and a resin with a hardness higher than the elastomer.
