Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2021043632A1] The invention relates to a packaging device (1) and to a method for producing packaging units (35). The packaging units (35) are formed by at least two items (30), which are brought together by a first secondary packaging means (20) and by at least one second secondary packaging means (40). The packaging device (1) comprises a supply unit (2) for the at least two items (30) or groups of at least two items (30), a first packaging module (7) for applying and securing the first secondary packaging means (20) - provided in the form of a flat packaging blank (21) - to the at least two items (30), and a second packaging module (12) for applying the second secondary packaging means (40) to the at least two items (30). The first packaging module (7) comprises a shaping device (9) for the first secondary packaging means (20).
