Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2021066710A1] The invention relates to a device (1) for feeding a cassette element (2) provided with at least one bristle bunch (3) into an elongated groove (4) of a cassette element holding member (5) of a cassette brush intended for industrial use. The device (1) comprises a support and guide unit (11) configured to receive and support a said cassette element (2), a moving arrangement configured to move a cassette element (2) received by the support and guide unit (11) into a said groove (4), and a power arrangement (25) controllable to make the moving arrangement move a said cassette element (2) into a said groove (4). The invention also relates to a method for feeding a cassette element (2) by use of such a device (1), as well as use of such a device (1) for replacing cassette elements (2) of a cassette brush of an airport runway sweeper.
