Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2021150207A1] The present disclosure relates to cartons, particularly cartons for storing and dispensing folded sheet material, that are substantially free from polymeric materials. The cartons have dispensing windows formed from paper and are provided with dispensing openings well suited for pop-up dispensing. The dispensing openings, which are preferably elongated, have a plurality of cusps and a plurality of slits disposed thereon to grasp and hold the sheet during dispensing.
