Abstract (en)
[origin: US2021259501A1] A floor cleaner is disclosed including a base configured to move over a surface to be cleaned, a handle coupled to the base and the handle operable to move the base over the surface, and a dispensing nozzle configured to dispense a fluid onto the surface to be cleaned. The floor cleaner further includes an actuator that controls a flow of the fluid through the dispensing nozzle and a supply tank in fluid communication with the dispensing nozzle. The supply tank includes a tank body configured to store the fluid and a collar coupled to the tank body, the collar including a latch that removably couples the supply tank to the floor cleaner.
