Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2021185691A1] The invention relates to a facility for spraying water in the form of snow or in liquid form, comprising a plurality of reservoirs (1, 2, 3) at least one of which is associated with a water spraying device. Furthermore, pipes and a pumping and turbine system are used so as to benefit from an energy storage and discharge capacity by transfer of water between the reservoirs.
