Abstract (en)

[origin: CA3183105A1] The invention relates to a packing machine (1) for filling product into bags, comprising a bag storage means (2), a filling module (100) with a filling nozzle (101), and a bag transportation means (3). The bag storage means and the bag transportation means are arranged in a line (12) and the filling module is arranged outside the line (12). In the method for operating a packing machine of this type, a bag is transferred from the bag storage means (2), out of line (12) to the filling module (100), and, after filling, it is transferred back into line (12) and to the bag transportation means.
