Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2021259598A1] The invention relates to a box laminating machine with two rubbing devices lying opposite the box to be covered, each rubbing device comprising a counter holder which is immersed into the box and a rubbing unit which slides over the wall that is to be covered and is supported against the counter holder. The rubbing process of walls lying opposite each other is carried out successively, wherein the box is moved relative to the counter holder perpendicularly to the wall to be rubbed.
