Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2022028898A1] The invention relates to a method for extracting gold and/or silver and/or at least one platinum metal. At least one starting material, which contains gold and/or silver and/or at least one platinum metal, is introduced into an aqueous solution that contains at least one nitrile. Ozone is introduced into the solution in at least two introduction phases (51, 52, 53). No ozone is introduced into the solution between the introduction phases (51, 52, 53).
