Abstract (en)
The present invention relates to a washing machine comprising a control panel (1); a dispenser panel (2); a detergent dispenser (3) which is coaxially centered to the dispenser panel (2), which is centered to the control panel (1); and a housing (4) which is arranged on the control panel (1) and which receives the detergent dispenser (3) together with the dispenser panel (2). By means of the present invention, instead of centering the control panel (1), the dispenser panel (2) and the detergent dispenser (3) individually, all the components, that is the control panel (1), the detergent dispenser (3) and the dispenser panel (2) are coaxially centered at the same region.
