Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2022064433A1] A marine vessel comprising an anchor and hull comprising an anchor well that has a mouth opening at the surface of the hull below the waterline of the hull. The anchor can, via the opening, be deployed and be retrieved to a stowed condition inside the hull. The anchor comprises a fluke that is of a shape and configuration to seat at and thereby seal the mouth opening of anchor well when in the stowed condition.
