Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2022063916A1] The present invention concerns a foldable container (1) for storing materials including meat products such as poultry. The container (1) comprises at least two foldable sheets (7, 8) connected by a foldable line (30), each comprising a plurality of rectangular walls (2) connected by foldable lines (30). The sheets (7, 8) comprise a left side edge and a right side edge, wherein each side edge of each sheet is configured to be connected to another side edge of another sheet via a mounting wall (9) to form a folded container (1). The invention further relates to a method and use of a container according to the invention.
