Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2022122338A1] The invention relates to a cooking system (10a-d), in particular an induction cooking system, comprising at least one mounting plate (12a-d), at least one heating unit (14-d) below the mounting plate (12a-d), and at least one thermal distribution unit (14a-c) for distributing heat. In order to obtain improved properties in respect of a design, in particular in respect of heat distribution, at least one part of the thermal distribution unit (16a-d) is arranged between the mounting plate (12a-d) and the heating unit (14a-d).
