Abstract (en)
A tool for eyelash extension is provided and a method for extending eyelashes using this tool. The tool comprises a handle portion (2, 2') to be held by one hand, a first leg portion (31, 31') and a second leg portion (32, 32') for separating at least one eyelash from adjacent eyelashes, wherein the two leg portions extend from the handle portion (2, 2') and is held apart by spring action. The tool further comprises a heating portion (4, 4') for melting an adhesive attached to an extension element, said heating portion (4, 4') being attached to said handle portion (2, 2').
