Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2022215098A1] The method for labeling confectionery products and the like provides for feeding in succession individual confectionery products (2) wrapped in respective wrapping sheets to a labeling station (3) placed peripherally with respect to a head (4) for wrapping said confectionery products (2). A tape (11) of adhesive labels is fed to said labeling station (3) in a suitable phase relationship. The tape (11) of adhesive labels is simultaneously engaged with peeling means (12) adapted to supply single adhesive labels to said labeling station (3). Said single adhesive labels fed into said labeling station (3) are taken up in succession by suction means (18) and applied by pressure by application means (16) on a surface of said products (2) bearing the folded flaps of the said wrapping sheet.
