Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2022229997A1] The method for closing the wrapper of confectionery products and the like provides for feeding in ordered succession individual confectionery products (2) wrapped in respective wrapping sheets into a first operating station (10) and into a second operating station (12) arranged peripherally at a wrapping head (3) of said confectionery products (2). In the first operating station (10) the closure of the bottom flaps of said wrapping sheet wound on the product (2) is carried out. In the second operating station (12) the lifting of a bottom flap of the wrapping sheet and the application of a dab of gluing material on the opposite bottom flap are carried out in a suitable phase relationship.
