Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2022228907A1] One aspect of the invention relates to a domestic appliance (1), comprising an outer housing (2) and a machine space (11), which is formed in the outer housing (2), wherein: the outer housing (2) has a rear wall part (6a) and has a machine-space rear wall (14), by which the machine space (11), viewed in the depth direction (z) of the domestic appliance (1), is covered at the back; the machine-space rear wall (14) has a coupling region (32), by means of which the machine-space rear wall is coupled to the rear wall part (6a); the coupling region (32) overlaps with the rear wall part (6a) in the height direction (y) of the domestic appliance (1), and the coupling region (32) is formed on both sides of the rear wall part (6a) in the depth direction (z). Another aspect relates to an assembly method.
