Abstract (en)
The invention relates to a stimulation device (1) for a massage, of the type provided with a chamber generating pressure waves, being particularly suitable for massaging erogenous zones, such as the clitoris. Said device comprises an opening (3) intended for being situated on the clitoris, and an inner end (2b) provided with generating means (4) for generating pressure waves in a longitudinal direction (L), wherein chamber comprises a side wall (6) arranged between the outer end (2a) and the inner end (2b), provided with deflector means (5) for deflecting pressure waves which protrude from the side wall (6) to cause turbulences in the pressure waves.
