Abstract (en)
A hand tool and a method for manufacturing the same are provided. The method for manufacturing the hand tool includes following steps of: determining a target size according to a first standard range and a second standard range; and forming a hand tool body (10, 10a, 10b) according to the target size. The hand tool body (10, 10a, 10b) includes an opening (11, 11a, 11b 11c) and a plurality of sidewalls (12) defining the opening (11, 11a, 11b 11c), and a distance between two said sidewalls (12) radially opposite to each other corresponds to the target size.
