㉛ A string for a musical instrument.

㉜ A string (20) for a musical instrument is formed, at its end for attachment to a tuning peg, to provide a pin portion (32) that is stiffened to resist bending. Desirably the pin portion (32) is formed to have a slightly larger diameter than the remainder of the string (20), is adapted to be received freely and snugly in a transverse hole in the tuning peg and has a length substantially no greater than the length of the hole in the tuning peg.
