54 Improvements in or relating to collapsible containers.

57 A collapsible container comprises a bag which includes a dispensing spout (16) in one side (28) thereof. A flexible strip formed from two plastics material sheets (20,22) in the form of "bubble film" is provided within the bag along the other side (26) thereof. The strip maintains a liquid passage within the container connecting with the spout upon collapse of the container.
