(54) Image recording apparatus capable of smoothing toner images.

(57) An apparatus for refixing a toner image on a recording sheet (T) with a carrier member (F) including a thin film member (F1) and a film supporting member (F2) which are so constructed to sandwich the sheet (T) having the toner image therebetween. A control device for use in a copying machine controls a feeding device, a photoreceptor, a transferring device and a fixing device so that the carrier means (F) is conveyed together with the sheet (T) having the toner image from the feeding device to the fixing device through the transferring device and that the toner on the sheet (T) is refixed by the fixing device.
