(54) Device signalling the arrival of rescue teams

(57) Electronic device signalling the arrival of rescue teams including:

- A transmitter installed on rescue vehicles which emits a coded signal during the time in which audio-visual devices have been activated;

- A receiver which, since it receives the coded signal transmitted by the transmitter installed on rescue vehicles, signals to the driver of the vehicle on which the receiver has been installed, by using an audio and/or visual device, the imminent arrival of a rescue team.
