(54) Graphical modules on a piece of garment

(57) The invention relates to a system of text modules (20) for being applied onto a piece of garment, comprising at least one text module (50), said text module comprising a number of combinable, releasable and reusable base modules (1,...11) that can be combined to form the text module, preferably a digit or a letter; and wherein the base modules are formed of burr tape, eg Velcro. Hereby it is accomplished that it is possible to form all text modules by means of a small number of base modules; and that the text on the piece of garment can be changed continuously as needed.
