(54) Bicycle shift control device with light structure

(57) A bicycle shift control device includes a shifter housing (20), a shift control mechanism (22) and a bicycle light structure (24). The shift control mechanism (22) is coupled to the shifter housing (20). The shift control mechanism (22) is configured and arranged to control a bicycle transmission component. The bicycle light structure (24) is coupled to the shifter housing (20). The bicycle light structure (24) includes a bicycle location light that is arranged and configured to project light outwardly from the shifter housing (20) at a location remote from a gear position indicator (26). Preferably, the bicycle light structure (24) is also configured and arranged to illuminate the gear position indicator (26) at a location remote from the light projecting outwardly from the shifter housing (20).
