(54) Single type piece assembly group used in cooling compartments

(57) The present invention relates to an assembly group (10) comprising two interlockable cover pieces (11). The characteristic of the assembly cover is that said cover pieces (11) are identical and comprise female tabs (12) provided on inner portions (112) in order to allow interlocking through inner portions (112) of said inner pieces (11) and at least one male tab (13) provided symmetrically with respect to female tabs (12) in the vertical axis (y) extending in the vertical direction along the center of the cover piece (11) such that each male tab corresponds to each of said female tabs (12).
