(54) PACKAGING METHOD AND PACKAGING STATION FOR INSERTING STACKS OF PRODUCTS INTO PACKAGING CONTAINERS

(57) To insert a stack of products (2) in a packaging container (3; 103), the stack of products (2) is arranged in a vertically aligned position below a vertical housing (10) which ends at the bottom with an inlet opening (12); the stack of products (2) is lifted so as to be inserted through the inlet opening (12) into the vertical housing (10); a support device (24) is then moved into an advanced position, below the stack of products (2), so as to engage the inlet opening (12) and/or a lower portion of the vertical housing (10) to rest the stack of products (2) on the supporting device (24).
